

Our stimulus package

GROWING BUSINESS, CREATING JOBS

We're a marketing communications company based in our nation's 85th metro, Fort Wayne, Indiana. We fly our business jet from our community airport almost daily to reach and serve clients all over the nation. And we never fly without a full complement of passengers. When our client in D.C. calls, we can be there in an hour and a half—and back in time for dinner with our families. Our CJ1 is a competitive edge, a statement to our clients and employees that we are committed to growing our business—our economic stimulus package.
